Description of change

The product label will be changed to no longer display the UKCA mark.

Reason of change:

The UKCA marking is a new UK product marking to be used for goods placed on the market in Great Britain. To indicate the product meets the essential requirements for the above, the UKCA marking was added to the label.

As of August 2023, the UK government has announced the continued use of the CE mark indefinitely resulting in Circuit Design to discontinue use of the UKCA mark on its products.
